

My title is Partner at Stewarts.

Ben advises on high-value personal injury claims, particularly brain and spinal cord injuries, including claims with an international element. He has experience of equestrian cases, as well as burn and amputation injuries. Ben is described in Chambers and Partners as 'extremely intelligent. He deals with a lot of challenging cases, and is very on the ball and very involved in the wider picture.' Ben has acted in many brain and spinal cord injury claims, including accidents abroad. He has supervised fee earners conducting many more. His highlights include achieving multimillion pound settlements resulting from a range of types of accidents, including road traffic accidents and accidents at work.
