

Dr Isabel M Gonzalez

Dr Isabel M Gonzalez qualified in Spain and trained in Anaesthesia and Intensive Care Medicine in the Northern Region. She was appointed a Consultant in Critical Care Medicine and Anaesthesia at The James Cook University Hospital in 2003. Locally, she leads on the recognition and management of the deteriorating patient, critical care outreach, rehabilitation after critical illness, non-invasive ventilation, weaning and long term ventilation in critical care and spinal cord injury. She is also a keen educator having set up and being part of local and regional courses. She is an active website and apps developer. She was appointed as the medical lead for the North of England Critical Care Network (NoECCN, Durham/Darlington/Tees Valley Locality) in 2010 and is a member of the National Clinical Reference Group for Adult Critical Care, leading on the Improving Value work stream.

She is currently the Chair for the National Outreach Forum (NOrF) where the Comprehensive Critical Care Outreach (3CO) philosophy, National Standards and Competencies for Critical Care Outreach have been developed.